{slide=What is JSnowfall}

JSnowfall is an adaptation of Scott Schill 's snowstorm javascript code for Joomla.

{/slide}{slide=JSnowfall is not working}

It would be good to tell us what went wrong, most likely it's the compatibility with the template. We didn't test this with all templates, except the one we are using.

{slide=Is your code safe, why is it obfuscated.}

Our code is safe, no code was included to monitor or send back information about your site. We do not know or will know who are using our module unless you tell us when we handle support questions . Even then, we do not keep your sites as we have no use for the information. So why is it obfuscated? We have decided to obfuscate the code to prevent unauthorized removal of our backlink.

We hope for your understanding.

{/slide}{slide=What is the unique key for}

The Unique Key field is provided, if you wish to disable the back link to our website. A contribution is necessary for us to send you a Unique Key for your install.

Currently, this is not automated, so after your contribution you must send us an email with your name/email (for confirmation) and your domain name (www.domain.com) and the module name where you will use the module and we will email you back the unique key.

You may use the Paypal link we have in our Homepage.

{/slide}{slide=Can I use the Unique Key on my other domains}

The Unique Key is tied to the domain that you submitted. It will not work for any other domains.

{/slide}{slide=How do I remove the 'snow by JSnowfall' backlink}

A contribution must be made to remove the backlink.

Currently, this is not automated, so after your contribution you must send us an email at support@jfriendly.net with the name/email used in the Paypal contribution (for confirmation) and your domain name (www.domain.com) and the module name where you will use the module and we will email you back the unique key. Each contribution is for a single domain only.

You may use the Paypal link we have in our Home page.

{slide=I like your extensions, how can I show my gratitude}

If we have helped you in our small way, we appreciate any kind of contribution or by clicking on our sponsor's link. To buy us a cup of coffee you may use the donate button on our webpage, which should take you to our Paypal's donation page.

Also, we would most appreciate a kind word in the Joomla Extensions Directory .

Thank you.
