I just recently acquired magicJack service, another VOIP service. MagicJack provides you with a US number once you activate thus allowing to call to other US numbers as a local US phone number. Since, you get a US phone numbers, your relatives and friends in the US can call you without the cost of an international call.

So how is it different from other VOIP providers such as the industry leader Vonage and SkypeOUT/IN, well, the most blaring difference are the costs. While Vonage will charge you US$24.95/month, and SkypeOUT/IN may charge you by the usage, magicJack charges a straightforward US$19.95/year. The initial outlay for a magicJack is around US$40 which includes the magicJack USB device and the first year subscription. Currently, magicJack also offers a US$59.95 for 5 years. What you get is the magicJack device USB which on one end is USB connector and on the other a regular RJ11 jack for your phone.
